INTENSIVE COURSE

An intensive course has become a popular way to get a driving license and works well for many people. The education itself is not different from an ordinary traditional education, the difference is rather that you drive a lot in a short period.

You can plan your intensive course yourself or follow some of our examples below.

30 lessons - 3 weeks intensive education

You drive 2*40 minutes every day from Monday to Friday for 3 weeks, you do the Risk 1 course either before commencing the intensive course or during the course. The skidpan is booked in advance so that you make it as late as possible during the course.

Price

Total cost 14 400 SEK

40 lessons - 4 weeks intensive education

You drive 2*40 minutes every day from Monday to Friday for 4 weeks, you do the Risk 1 course either before commencing the intensive course or during the course. The skidpan is booked in advance so that you make it as late as possible during the course.

Price

- 40 Driver lessons
- Risk 1 course
- Skidpan
- Instructor led theory lessons
- Bookpackage
- Free onlinetests

Total cost 18 400 SEK

The driving test is booked provisionally when your driving instructor feel that you are ready.

During the course, you read the theory and complete all phases of the driving license tests before the driver test is done, of course, we strongly recommend that you complete phase A, B, C, and F before beginning the course.

It is an advantage if you also participate in our instructor-led theory classes during the course you can of course participate in theory courses before commencing the intensive course. If you have questions, you can get information on our forum or contact us.

Intensive course depending on your previous experience

Do you have previous knowledge in the past and are not sure which is best for you then we can offer you a intensivecourse depending on your previous skills.

Contact us and book a trial lesson, then we adjust the intensive course for your needs and time available. You also get a total cost estimate.

Remember that our intensive course is just like it sounds, a course (training), it is designed for you to gain knowledge in a short time. You can not pre expect to be ready for the intensive course or that you automatically get a driving test, you must be prepared that you may need more driving lessons if it does not go as you expected. Either way you have availed yourself skills that might otherwise have taken several months.

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE INTENSIVE COURSE

Theory

It is a great advantage if you read the theory before you start your intensive because you have to book a theory test and practical test at the same time. It is also beneficial if you participate in our instructor-led theory classes before beginning the course or during the course.

You should successfully complete the theoretical phases A, B, C, and F, two weeks before the course to save time and unnecessary stress. The Driving license tests can you do remotely thru the student center.

Risk education

During your intensive course, you must implement risk education if you have not already done it. The reservation of the dual risk training is done in conjunction with the booking of your driving lessons.

Risk One is done at the beginning or before you start your intensive course. Risk Education Part 2 (slipperiness) is booked as late as possible during the course. If the teacher believes that you have not achieved high enough level to cope with the slippery, the booking will be postponed.

Driver test

When you reached the end of their training, a educational test is done. The education test is done for you to make a realistic assessment of your own driving and assess your own skills in order to become a safe driver on the roads.

When you have reached a sufficiently high level to be considered a safe driver and are prepared enough to pass a driving test the teacher will book a test for you. Remember that it is your driving instructor in consultation with you that decide when your driving test will be booked.

Tips and advices

If you decided to drive intensive then you should make a plan ahead if your driving lessons is enough. Always be ahead when it comes to the booking of your extra driving lessons to get your intensive course much smoother.

Remember that your intensive course should be booked 4-6 weeks before the planned start of the course. During the summer it is usually many who want to take a license, which can help to quickly become fully booked.

Economy

Try to plan your finances so that you can continue driving if it turns out you need more driving lessons. Also keep in mind that you also have to pay fees to the transport agency, these fees are not included in any of our packages.

Fees to the Transport Agency

- ✓ Drivers permit 150 SEK
- ✓ Eye vision test ca 100 SEK
- ✓ Photo of you 80 SEK
- ✓ Making of the driver license 150 SEK
- ✓ Theory test 325 SEK
- ✓ Practical test 800 SEK

Booking driver lessons

It is a big advantage whether you can drive at any time during your intensive course, most people plan their intensive course during a vacation period or a summer vacation, and it would then not be a major problem over time. If you are driving over a period of leave so try to have margins, it may be that you need a week or two extra.

However, if it turns out that there is insufficient time, then you can continue to drive in a normal pace, the knowledge you have received is not forgotten in the first place. Are you planning to move, or perhaps only in Malmö for a certain time, you can always resume the driving elsewhere.

In case of illness or cancellation of lessons

Unfortunately, things can happen that you may not have been prepared for, for example, that you become ill or for some other reason have to cancel driving lessons. If this affects your development, you must be prepared to your pre-booked times will be postponed, for example your skidpan or driving test..

We will of course do everything for you to pursue your education as smoothly as possible, but the driving school can not accept responsibility for illness or other cause, delaying your development.

Cancellation - Refund - Course fee

You pay your intensive package 14 days before the course starts, you choose whether you want to pay a portion of the fee or the whole, however, the full fee shall be paid no later than the first driving lesson. If you cancel the intensive package and cancel the booking of the entire course, you will of course get full refund.

If you book by the intensive course and cancel the package later than 14 days before the course starts you will be refunded the amount paid minus 10% of the course's value, and possibly what you have consumed. You can download STR's practice on our website and learn more about the rules for the refund of the course fee.
